

Global Public Forum's Picks

Peer-reviewed academic journals:

A quick note from the GPF team:

Remember that this is NOT an exhaustive list of all applicable literature—this is just a starting point. Based on each month's topic, you should begin your research anew, and ALWAYS vet your authors and their own original sources, data, and figures.

Best,
GPF team.

- ❖ Encyclopedia Britannica
  - Yes, we understand that this is not a journal. However, when beginning research into a topic you are unfamiliar with, Britannica is a wonderful resource for background understanding and historical context
- ❖ JSTOR
  - JSTOR is a HUGE database that contains MANY journal articles. We highly recommend checking it out.
- ❖ Scientific American
- ❖ Econometrica
- ❖ Journal of Economic Literature
- ❖ The Quarterly Journal of Economics
- ❖ American Political Science Review
- ❖ British Journal of Political Science
- ❖ Journal of Economic History
- ❖ The American Historical Review